Hi Kristi,

So, Here's what we have worked out.

The family will fly nonstop via Jet Blue leaving Seattle tonight at 11:30PM and getting into Boston airport at 7:42am tomorrow Saturday. Dartmouth Limo will pick them up at the airport (I am working with the Limo company to have a car ready to pick them up. Working details. They need a cellphone for the family if you can send to me).

They will stay at Hanover Inn tomorrow night, and leave on Sunday back to Boston. (We have the last room available at the Inn. It's a king sized bed, and I have a cot on standby incase the student wants to stay in their room too).

On Sunday, the limo service will pick them up outside the Inn once again, at around 4PM ish. (I'm confirming with them today) and they will bring them to Boston airport for a 7pm flight back to Seattle via Alaska airlines.

The flight itineraries and hotel confirmation are attached. I will send the car service details once I have those worked out.

The Hanover Inn indicated that when the family arrives, they may not be able to immediately get into their room, so check with the front desk. Also, because they are leaving later on Sunday, they can check with the front desk about a late check out on Sunday morning.

Thanks,
Ed
